

Dr. Morna K. Foy is President of the Wisconsin Technical College System, which consists of 16 two-year institutions and nearly 330,000 students.

For more than 25 years, Dr. Foy has been engaged in higher education policy and leadership. She earned her undergraduate degree in Economics and Political Science from UW-Madison, a Masters in Finance and Policy from Indiana University, and a Doctorate in Education Leadership and Policy Analysis from UW-Madison.

In a time of significant change in higher education and in the workplace, Dr. Foy believes in the power of technical education to enrich lives and strengthen Wisconsin's economy.